SELECTED POSTERS FROM A CENTURY OF PALESTINIAN PRINT

Produced on Wurundjeri Country of the Kulin Nation.

All revenue will support mutual aid.

This zine gathers a small selection of posters from across the web, including the Palestine Poster Project Archive, a web-based archival and teaching resource that makes thousands of Palestine posters accessible for study and public use.

The posters reproduced here are drawn primarily from the last century — a span in which resistance persists across generations, where struggle is voiced, organised, and remembered, and where earlier images continue to meet the present. These posters circulate as residues of an ongoing struggle: traces of intergenerational occupation and of the worlds made in resistance to it.

The selection is limited by the constraints of physical format and production costs. The pharmakon of the archive persists here as well: it preserves and circulates even as it delimits — fixing some things in place while excluding others.

Readers are encouraged to explore the full Palestine Poster Project Archive online: palestineposterproject.org

From the river to the sea, Palestine will be free.
